

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

SAN FRANCISCO POLYCLINIC.

To the Board of Trustees of the San Francisco Polyclinic:

GENTLEMEN—Your committee, appointed to make the annual report of the Polyclinic, submits herewith the record of the institution from March, 1891 to June, 1892, this record embracing the history of the affairs and work of the Polyclinic as an eleemosynary organization, with statistical statements of the number of patients treated, and also the report of the changes which have taken place in the organization of the staff.

The Polyclinic, founded by us as primarily a charity—a dispensary where the sick poor could have the necessary and proper treatment—and presented to the public as such, has never changed in the least its character in that regard. The original ideas which moved us to organize the institution have, to be sure, undergone some modifications, but that was only because we much underestimated the need that existed for such a charity; and we have thus been obliged to modify our ideas only to remodel our plans and enlarge our facilities to accommodate the increased number of distressed who applied to us. The public, the aid of which was necessary, and which responded with generosity to our request for financial assistance, becomes here, with you, the recipient of our report, for the records of patients treated shows how the money of the public has been expended by us, and to how many we have been able, with this money, to give advice and treatment.

The first report of our work, issued in March, 1890, showed 1862 patients, who made 8389 visits. The second report, issued in March, 1891, showed 3452 treated, and that these people made 13,305 visits at the Polyclinic. The present report shows that in the year from March 15th, 1891 to March 15th, 1892, 4869 applicants were treated, and that they made 20,881 visits at the clinics. These cases are divided as follows among the various clinics :

MEDICINE.

INTERNAL MEDICINE.

Cases . . . . . 1740    Visits . . . . . 4774

DISEASES OF CHILDREN.

SURGERY.

GENERAL SURGERY.

Cases . . . . . 839    Visits . . . . . 3531

GENITO-URINARY SURGERY.

Cases . . . . . 119    Visits . . . . . 376

ORTHOPEDIC SURGERY.

GYNECOLOGY.

Cases . . . . . 512    Visits . . . . . 2830

EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT.

EYE.

Cases . . . . . 230    Visits . . . . . 2760

EAR.

Cases . . . . . 288    Visits . . . . . 2525

NOSE AND THROAT.

(Incomplete records, from February 1, 1892 to March 15, 1892, only.)

Cases . . . . . 205    Visits . . . . . 383

DERMATOLOGY AND VENEREAL DISEASES.

Cases . . . . . 486    Visits . . . . . 1974

There have also been done by the members of the staff 26 capital operations and 402 minor operations on the patients, these operations being done either at the patients' homes or in the Polyclinic wards at the City and County Hospital, or at the Children's Hospital.

In addition to these, five cases have been attended in confinement by the Gynecological Clinic.

We here submit the statement of the Treasurer of the finances of the Polyclinic, from March 16th, 1891 to June 21st, 1892, showing the amount of moneys received, and from what sources, and the itemized account of expenses.

THE work of the Polyclinic—dispensary work—necessarily limited the cases to such as could walk to and from the institution, and many patients needing operations or treatment in bed were sent away, as not within its scope.

In 1891, however, the Hospital Committee, Drs. Regensburger, Shiels and Morse, secured from the Board of Health the assignment of two wards at the City and County Hospital. These wards the Polyclinic has officered, and, by the aid of the patronesses, has partly furnished, this furnishing being supplemental to the accommodations provided by the city. The Polyclinic has also purchased the necessary surgical instruments, has fitted up a serviceable operating room, and provided a sufficient supply of approved dressings, and each month makes from its treasury an appropriation for the benefit of these wards of the hospital. Since the Polyclinic has had this hospital service there have been treated in these two wards 172 patients.

Another work of the Polyclinic which is carried on outside of the dispensary is the obstetric service. According to the provisions under which this service was established, poor women will be provided with competent medical attendance during confinement, on application to either Dr. von Hoffmann or Dr. Kreutzmann, at the Gynecological Clinic.

The arrangement with the Fruit and Flower Mission, by which the privileges of the Polyclinic's drug store are extended to the Mission, continues, and similar arrangements have been made with The Pastoral Aid Society of Trinity Church.

A number of the staff have commented on the fact that people amply able to pay a physician for his services very often present themselves at the Polyclinic to be the recipients of charity. The correction of this abuse can only be accomplished by the exposure of these frauds and denying them attention; and the exchange of services between the Associated Charities and the Polyclinic still continues, so that each member of the staff can refer to the Associated Charities for investigation the name of any applicant whose circumstances he suspects are not such as to class him as a charity case.

In November, 1891, we became cognizant of the fact that the articles of incorporation and the constitution as they then existed contained restrictions which, while all right and proper at the time of their adoption, had since become unnecessary or potentially harmful; for one thing, under the then articles of incorporation the Polyclinic could inherit no bequest. The services of Mr. Jere T. Burke, an attorney, were secured, new articles of incorporation were filed, and a new constitution was adopted. By these two documents it is believed that every proper provision has been made for all possible development of the institution we founded in 1889, so that for as many years as the Polyclinic shall exist there may be never a need of further change in these respects. Looking over the two lists of names on these two papers, the old and the new articles of incorporation, we see that four names written on the first are omitted from the last. Dr. R. I. Bowie resigned from the staff in 1890 to devote more time to personal affairs, and early in 1891 death took one of the brightest of the staff—Dr. Henry Ferrer. The other two are Dr. George Chismore and Dr. J. D. Arnold, both of whom have been obliged—though the latter was then our President—under the pressure of work in their private practices, to tender their resignations; and as we now look back to the beginnings of our institution when they were with us, this is a fitting place to express again our appreciation of their work as active members of the staff, and our regret for the necessity of their withdrawal. For something over a year past the distinguished Professor A. B. Arnold was a working member of the staff, and for that time held his clinics in general medicine twice weekly; but his return East, and the uncertainty of his being again a resident of the Pacific Coast, has lately caused him, too, to send in his resignation, which was regretfully accepted by us.

There have, on the other hand, been accessions to our number, and we count the names of W. E. Hopkins, W. A. Martin, W. F. McNutt, Luke Robinson, W. H. Mays, Leo Newmark and J. C. Spencer as members of our faculty.

Two courses of lectures have been given under the auspices of the Polyclinic in the past eighteen months. The first course, intended more especially for physicians, was given in the Polyclinic House by G. M. Sternberg, M. D., Lt.-Col. and Surgeon, U. S. A., on the subject of Bacteriology. The course covered six lectures, and was a thorough description of the evolution of bacteriology and the methods of its study, the lectures being illustrated by the incomparable micro-photographs of the author. A fee of five dollars was charged for this course, and the amount left after the payment of expenses was deposited with the Treasurer as the nucleus of a fund for the support of the Polyclinic bacteriological laboratory.

The second course was an effort on the part of the Polyclinic to show more pointedly its appreciation for the popular support it has received. The course consisted of six free public lectures, delivered one each month, from September, 1891 to February, 1892, both inclusive, in the Standard Theater on Bush street. In arranging this course the Polyclinic incurred another debt of gratitude, for the lectures were the generous contributions of the following gentlemen: Professor E. E. Barnard, of the Lick Observatory, "Recent Astronomical Photography;" F. W. D'Evelyn, M. B., C. M., "Memories of the Zulu Campaign;" Rev. Dr. Jacob Voorsanger, "Hygiene of the Rabbis and the Scriptures;" Mr. Solly Walter, "Art Criticisms;" President David S. Jordan, Leland Stanford Junior University, "Ascent of the Matterhorn;" J. H. Stallard, M. B., "The Problem of the Sewerage of San Francisco."

The use of the theater where these lectures were given was donated by Dr. George Franklin Shiels, and if it had been as large again it could have been as easily filled, for the course proved a very attractive one to the public. It is fitting that, for its guest, the public, and itself, the Polyclinic should here thank these gentlemen, individually and collectively, for their time and efforts, assuring them that while full appreciation and thanks are all the Polyclinic can give, both these are given unstintingly.

The Polyclinic is also indebted to the press of San Francisco, and here acknowledges its indebtedness, for not only have the columns of all the newspapers been freely open for announcements, but the Polyclinic has always been treated by the press with a consideration for which it is grateful; and to the medical press of the Pacific Coast—more especially to the Pacific Medical Journal—the Polyclinic expresses its gratitude for the kindly mention and cordial support which has always been extended to a struggling medical institution.

It has always been the wish of the majority of the members of the staff to be able to use a portion of the large amount of clinical material for purposes of instruction, believing that this would increase the interest we already had in the work, that it would add to the reputation of San Francisco as a medical centre if a good school of purely clinical medicine was established here, and that, if we accepted as students only graduates in medicine, physicians and surgeons who might have been, perhaps, some years in practice—just as is done under the same circumstances in post-graduate schools in other cities of the United States and of Europe—the ordinary objection to “being lectured on” might not hold with the majority of our patients, and, further, believing that the fees, which would be properly charged such students, would be a legitimate source of revenue which could be applied to maintaining the charity and thus lessen the amount we have to ask of our patronesses and subscribers. Several efforts have been made to inaugurate such courses, but, either because the current eastward of all wishing to refresh or add to their knowledge of special branches, was too strong to be turned hither, or because the advantages we could offer were too few to attract, these efforts have been practically wasted. To be sure we have had some matriculants, in all five, in a year and a half, but this number is very insignificant.

The Regents of the University of California last year decided to establish in connection with the University a Post-Graduate Department in Medicine, so that her own graduates, wishing special or advanced instruction need turn to no new alma mater—but could return to her and find all that they needed or wished. Knowing that the Polyclinic had a partially organized course in such subjects and for just such a class of students, the Regents proposed that the Polyclinic fully organize a course of post-graduate instruction and then affiliate with the University and become the Post-Graduate Medical Department of the University of California. To this proposal, after careful consideration, and the strictest stipulations that the autonomy of the Polyclinic should not be disturbed, nor its character, as a great charity, be altered, the Polyclinic acceded, and all necessary formalities having been observed, the affiliation was consummated at the May meeting of the Board of Regents of the University.

It seems right to repeat here that the essential character of the Polyclinic is in no whit altered, neither to the public, which has given it support without which it could not have lived, nor to the class of people from whom come its patients, nor to any single patient who comes to the Polyclinic for treatment; for, in the first place, the charity will be continued precisely as before; in truth, the charity is essential to the existence of the school, and in the second place, no patient can be compelled to be the illustration of a lecture; nor will any one be refused treatment because of declining to act in such a capacity.

The Polyclinic is at present housed in rented quarters, and feels on every side the restrictions which limited space, and rooms not specially constructed for its special purposes, imposes; but the first step has lately been taken to make a permanent home, in the purchase of the property, 410 Ellis Street. This consists of a plot 27 feet, 7½ inches front, by 125 feet deep, fronting on Ellis Street, and reaching through to Antonio Street in the rear. On it is a frame building, and the whole brings a rental of $75 per month. It is believed that this is a wise and safe purchase, for it is in the part of the city where the Polyclinic must be located, and it is bought with the intention of replacing the present structure with a building especially adapted to the Polyclinic's work, as soon as possible—but, if a larger or otherwise more suitable location can be found before the Polyclinic builds, it is considered that this investment will prove to have been a profitable one, from the increase of values which is constantly taking place.

In conclusion, we call your attention to the Report of the Patronesses of the San Francisco Polyclinic, which, by their courtesy, we are allowed to incorporate with ours. We do not need to recite to you, nor to our friends at large, the generosity, the tireless energy, the fertility of resource, and the perfection of execution which they have brought to our aid, to provide a place and the means for the maintenance of the charity we inaugurated. We recognize that in thus doing and giving they are actuated by the noblest motives that stir the human heart to feel, inspire the human brain to think, and urge the hand to work, and we feel it a privilege that they have chosen that their efforts shall find through us the channel to their determined end. We commend to your most careful attention the record of this work, and call on you for renewed expression of your appreciation of the efforts of these noble women.

JOHN F. MORSE,
FRED. W. D'EVELYN,
HARRY M. SHERMAN.

PROFESSIONAL CONVERSAZIONE

Within the past few months there has been established a Professional Conversazione, to which outside members of the profession are admitted by invitation card presented by some member of the staff.

The meetings are held every second month, in the reception room of the institution, when interesting cases are presented and discussed, pathological specimens demonstrated, and new instruments exhibited.

Already much interest has been evinced in these meetings, and we doubt not but they shall prove instructive, and conserve much of the valuable clinical material which the large attendance of patients so abundantly provides.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

Since my last report several important donations have been received, including both medical and general literature.

As the library is a very valuable adjunct to the institution, it is to be hoped that it will be liberally supported and its catalogue much augmented during the present year. All donations will be fully appreciated, and their receipt duly acknowledged.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF PATRONESSES OF THE SAN FRANCISCO POLYCLINIC.

The Patronesses of the San Francisco Polyclinic having as yet made no special report, wish now to acquaint their kind friends and the generous public with the work done by this Board since its organization.

The first meeting of these ladies was held at the rooms of the Polyclinic, at 124 Ellis street. The object and purpose of this and subsequent meetings was to aid the Polyclinic to secure more commodious quarters, as those at first engaged and occupied soon proved too small, and had no conveniences even for the temporary rest of the patients who were compelled to await their turn to receive the required medical advice and attendance.

To effect this change demanded ready money, and to procure this money the Monster Concert of December 14th, 1889, was given, the net proceeds of which were the grand sum of $3916.85. Just at this point I deem it requisite to state that there was seldom, if ever, any festival or benefit projected that met with more prompt, real and disinterested generosity in response than did the call for this concert. The many artists of vocal and instrumental music, and the singing societies of this city and Oakland, readily and gladly volunteered their services. The outcome of this liberality was a grand demonstration of the estimation the Polyclinic was held in by those who understood its efficiency and realized the necessity of its organization.

Having secured the premises now occupied by the Polyclinic at 315 Ellis street, the work of removal was begun at once. The expense of this removal was in part defrayed by some of the money realized by the concert, and partly by the generous contributions of furniture, etc., from many of the prominent merchants of our city, as well as private individuals. In fact, we were graciously received and most courteously and liberally treated by all to whom we applied.

This institution being now placed on an apparently firm basis by its own merits—being recognized in an increase of membership and annual subscribers—the ladies entered into an almost solemn compact to set aside a portion of the concert money as the nucleus of a building fund, the same to be augmented whenever suitable opportunities offered themselves, and thus insure a permanent home, the property of this noble charity, effectually placing it as an important and necessary factor in our community.

To effect this, and more, the ladies decided to give an open air entertainment. This suggestion gave an opportunity to Mr. Adolph Sutro to show his appreciation of the Polyclinic. He generously placed at the ladies' disposal his beautiful premises at Sutro Heights, and personally supervised and assisted in the preparations for the fête champêtre that was given on May 23d, and was a most unprecedented success in every way, netting for proceeds the sum of $2833.00. For this grand result, as well as that of the grand concert, the ladies must recognize the efficient assistance and kindly interest of our musical and artist friends, and to the members of the Bohemian, Pacific-Union, Union League and Olympic Clubs, who were as one in their efforts to make the affair such a grand success.

The next in this series is the Art Loan Exhibit, which was given the first week in November, 1891, and which proved a most fortunate venture, socially, artistically and financially. The position of the Polyclinic was most favorably demonstrated by this third call on its friends and patrons. The choicest pictures of many private collections, works of art, heirlooms, curios, ivories, laces, and all articles that add lustre, interest and attraction to such an exhibit, were freely offered by the owners of treasures, and the throng of visitors throughout the week showed the appreciation of this generous action, as well as the desire to assist the charity. From this exhibit the net proceeds were $2612.61.

The number of patients at the Polyclinic is increasing daily; and for many of them surgical aid being necessary, the faculty obtained from the Board of Health the permission to use two wards in the City and County Hospital for Polyclinic patients. In order to make these wards more comfortable, the Patronesses determined on a number of teas, to be given at the houses of some of their number, the price of and terms of admission to be uniform, viz., $1.00, including refreshments.

The first of the series was given at the residence of Mrs. William B. Wilshire, 2616 Buchanan street, on Saturday, February 13th, the net proceeds of this tea being $250.00.

The next of the teas was given at the residence of Mrs. Ansley G. Davis, 1605 Scott street, on Saturday, February 20th, the net proceeds being $365.00.

The third and last of the series was given on Saturday, February 27th, at the house of Mrs. M. H. de Young, the proceeds being $1063.25.

At each of these entertainments choice programmes were prepared, and the musical and literary selections delightfully given and enthusiastically enjoyed.

In these, as in all former entertainments for the Polyclinic, special thanks must be given to the musical, literary and artistic friends whose valuable services were in all cases voluntarily and gratuitously given. Of these I will give particular mention to Professor and Madame Rosewald, to Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Solly Walter, who on the four several occasions gracefully and generously donated their valuable time and services. And to the press of San Francisco we are most deeply indebted for its generous and hearty support in all of our undertakings.

With all the popularity and increasing efficiency of the San Francisco Polyclinic it will still be for some time an expensive necessity. This expense can be met by an increase of subscribers, monthly, yearly or life members. Your and our reward will be the happy consciousness of having endeavored as far as our individual means and influence could effect anything to help these worthy doctors in their noble effort to assist suffering humanity by relieving its ills and pains, and also to feel that we are the humble assistants of One who came on earth to assist and comfort the poor and distressed, and who assures us that in helping the helpless we are laying up for ourselves treasures in heaven.

In thus commending to your especial interest and attention our work and its aims, we hope for the continued assistance of all, that each will endeavor among her friends to enlist subscribers to this good cause.

Very respectfully submitted.

KATE DE YOUNG,

President of the Committee of Patronesses of the San Francisco Polyclinic.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

It is our pleasant duty to present to you a report of the work of the Patronesses of the San Francisco Polyclinic since they have become an organized body.

The Board of Patronesses have held regular meetings on the first Tuesday of each month, which have been well attended. Special meetings have been called when deemed necessary by the chair, and have been responded to with cheerfulness and interest.

During the past twelve months there has been a marked increase in the membership and support of this institution, and while we have had the misfortune of parting with a few of our members, the vacancies have been more than filled by the constant addition of new workers.

There has been collected during the past year:

By subscription . . . . .	$1487 00
By life membership . . . . .	900 00
By donation . . . . .	125 00
By entertainments . . . . .	7123 86

Generous donations of provisions, bedding, reading matter and household goods have also been received, for which we return most cordial thanks.

In January, 1892, the San Francisco Polyclinic received from the Board of Health the privilege of the use of two wards at the City and County Hospital for the accommodation of patients for whom it is impossible to provide at the present quarters, 315 Ellis street. The Patronesses have appointed from their number a visiting committee, whose duty it is to pay semi-weekly visits to these wards and see that the needs and comforts of the patients are provided for. Already the influence of their ministration is plainly visible, but it is our ultimate object to make these wards models of comfort and convenience.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. A. M. DAVIS.
